There is concern that algorithms have undesired effects on democracy. This workshop explores how algorithms can help understand and redesign democratic processes.

Scientific Organizers

- Davide Grossi, University of Groningen / University of Amsterdam
- Ulrike Hahn, Birkbeck College London
- Michael Mäs, Karlsruhe Institute of Technology
- Andreas Nitsche, Association for Interactive Democracy / Thomas Mann Fellow

Topics

- Digital Democracy
- Social Networks
- Algorithmic Fairness
- Social Influence
- Argumentation
- Collective Intelligence

For registration see: www.lorentzcenter.nl