The Lorentz Center organizes international workshops for researchers in all scientific disciplines. Its aim is to create an atmosphere that fosters collaborative work, discussions and interactions.

For registration see: www.lorentzcenter.nl

This workshop is part of the NIAS-Lorentz Program, which brings together perspectives from humanities & social sciences with natural & technological sciences.

Ethics in Caribbean Archaeology
Past, Present, and Future

Scientific Organizers

• Eduardo Herrera Malatesta, Aarhus University
• Felicia Fricke, University of Copenhagen
• Maaike de Waal, Leiden University

Topics

• Key Ethical Issues
• Past Attempts to Solve Ethical Dilemmas
• Collaboration with Local Stakeholders
• Different Data Types and Ethics
• Encouraging Institutional Support
• Future Ethical Issues

The Lorentz Center organizes international workshops for researchers in all scientific disciplines. Its aim is to create an atmosphere that fosters collaborative work, discussions and interactions. For registration see: www.lorentzcenter.nl

This workshop is part of the NIAS-Lorentz Program, which brings together perspectives from humanities & social sciences with natural & technological sciences.

Aloe vera is thought to attract positive energy and can survive long droughts. It represents longevity in adversity, and a positive outlook for our workshop. Image by Andrea Leopardi. Poster design: SuperNova Studios NL.

13 - 17 November 2023, Leiden, the Netherlands