

Research Environments for Human-Machine Teaming

12 - 16 August 2024, Leiden, the Netherlands

Scientific Organizers

- Ruben Verhagen, Delft University of Technology
- Carolina Jorge, Delft University of Technology
- Jessie Yang, University of Michigan
- Mark Neerincx, TNO
- Myrthe Tielman, Delft University of Technology

Topics

- Human-Machine Collaboration Scenarios and Tasks
- Evaluating Human-Machine Collaborations
- Roles for Humans and Machines During Collaboration
- Realistic and Reusable Research Environments
- Challenges of Research Environments

The Lorentz Center organizes international workshops for researchers in all scientific disciplines. Its aim is to create an atmosphere that fosters collaborative work, discussions and interactions. For registration see: www.lorentzcenter.nl

This workshop is part of our collaboration with NIAS and aims to stimulate research in the humanities & social sciences.

Preparing for the future: Enhancing human-machine teamwork through robust research environments.
Poster design: SuperNova Studios . NL